WEST REJECTS RED BERLIN DEMANDS

Save 2 From Drowning

Fast Action Saves Dad, Boy of 6

Sheriffs' deputies credited a motel owner and his wife this week-end with avoiding a repeat of last month's Palm Springs drowning accident which took the lives of a father and son.

Rescued from a near twin drowning at the Beckley Motel, across from Laurey's Steak Ranch on Highway 111, were Oakland school teacher George C. Hoffman, 38, and his son Randy, 6.

According to deputies, the pair were pulled from the motel pool Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Benton Beckley, owners of the establishment.

The couple applied artificial respiration until firemen arrived with resuscitation equipment. After 20 minutes the pair was rushed by ambulance to Desert Hospital with the father still unconscious and the son in hysterical condition.

Hospital authorities released the boy Sunday morning. His father didn't regain consciousness until that time and was subsequently transferred to Kaiser Hospital in Fontana in what doctors called "serious condition." Fears were expressed he might have suffered brain damage from lack of oxygen.

Mrs. Beckley told deputies she discovered the pair in the pool upon going out to check on their safety. She said she had become worried after Hoffman told her he and his son couldn't swim.

Upon arriving poolside she saw the elder Hoffman at the bottom of the pool and his son struggling to keep his head above water.

She ran to get her husband and the two of them pulled both victims out of the pool while a neighbor ran to phone police.

Investigating deputies said the accident had occurred when the boy got into deep water and his father tried to pull him out.

NEAR-DROWNING victim George C. Hoffman, 38, is given artificial respiration by M. D. McGinley of Palms Springs after the Oakland man and his son were pulled from a swimming pool at Beckley's Motel. The man at left, taking the victim's pulse, was not identified. Hoffman is in "serious condition" at Kaiser Hospital in Fontana.

Ty Cobb, 74 Dies in Atlanta

ATLANTA, Ga. — Ty Cobb, 74, one of the all-time greats in baseball, died today at Emory University hospital at Atlanta.

The legendary "Georgia Peach" of baseball died from a complication of ailments described by his physician as "a general deterioration of health." He suffered from the combined effects of heart disease, diabetes and arthritis.

The first ballplayer elected to baseball's Hall of Fame, Cobb, born Tyrus Raymond Cobb, led the American League in batting 12 times—nine times in succession. He accumulated 4,191 hits, a total that made him the only player ever to amass 4,000 safe blows. He stole 892 bases in his career — 96 in one season and led the American League in stolen bases for six seasons.

RANDY HOFFMAN, 6-year-old son of George Hoffman, recovers on a pool lounge after trying to keep his father's head above water. The two almost drowned in the motel swimming pool, adding another near-drown to the growing statistics swimming pool accidents in the desert area. (Desert Sun Photos).

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo UPI — The United Nations said today that a Soviet diplomatic mission has arrived at Stanleyville, stronghold of the leftwing Lumumbist regime of Antoine Gizenga.

Dist. Atty. Kit Nelson has charged that Cooley, 50, tortured his estranged wife, Ella Mae, 37, to death April 3 in their Willow Springs ranch home south of here.

week the Defense Department's final recommendation on whether to mobilize part of the National Guard and reserves, because of the Berlin threat, informed sources said today.

The question has been under intensive study at the Pentagon since Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev added $3.5 billion to Russia's military budget and cancelled plans for Red troop reductions.

WASHINGTON UPI — Administration sources denied today that President Kennedy currently is expecting Chester A. Bowles to resign as undersecretary of state. The sources, declining to be identified by name, said Bowles "has neither resigned nor has his resignation been asked for."

ORLEANS, Ind. UPI — Rescuers massed at a cave mouth today where rising rainwater hid the fate of two veteran spelunkers trapped in a five-mile labyrinth.

Skies cleared during the night but water swirled six feet high at the entrance on the Wallace Shaul farm. A cave expert said it would be "several hours" before a search for Ralph Moreland and Thomas Arnold, both 25, could begin.

WASHINGTON UPI — Immediate tax cuts for business totaling more than $1.2 billion a year won approval today on the House Ways & Means Committee.

The committee approved a sharply revised version of President Kennedy's plan to provide tax incentives for business to spur economic growth.

15 Nations Okay Answer; Policy Meet Seen Soon

LONDON — The United States, Britain and France sent notes to Moscow today firmly rebutting Russia's demands against isolated Berlin.

The Big Three Western notes, which were approved by the entire 15-nation NATO council Saturday, were sent to the allies embassies in Moscow for imminent delivery to the Kremlin.

At the same time diplomatic sources in London said the U.S., British and French foreign ministers may meet in Paris early next month to coordinate allied policy on Berlin.

Sources said a foreign ministers conference could be a prelude to a Western summit conference of President Kennedy, Premier Harold Macmillan and President Charles de Gaulle, if it was necessary to serve a more serious warning on the Soviets. But they said no move toward such a top level gathering had yet been made.

No Final Agreement According to diplomatic sources Western foreign ministers meeting is currently under consideration but no final agreement has been reached.

But these sources added that such a meeting was very likely and would probably be held in the French capital in the first days of August.

The meeting would be the first major Western get-together to play and coordinate allied strategy on Berlin since the Soviet Union revived its threat to that divided city.

Major Points The U.S., British and French notes make these major points, according to diplomatic sources:

—Allied rights in Berlin stand and cannot be unilaterally narrowed or abolished by Russia;

—The Soviet view is erroneous that a separate peace treaty with East Germany can shift responsibility for Berlin to East German authorities;

—Berlin remains a four power responsibility and Moscow cannot escape this fact by independent action.

—The Berlin problem cannot be resolved in isolation from the larger issues involving the overall German problem and German unification in freedom.

—The Western powers will not recognize any unilateral Soviet note on Berlin.

Police Probe Desert Man's Mystery Death

DOWNEY — Three men were under questioning as possible murder suspects today in connection with the mystery-shrouded death of a man from Palm Springs.

The victim, Dale Wayne (Duane) Smith, 23, was found dead from an apparent overdose of narcotics outside of a hospital here early Sunday.

Det. Capt. Jack Martin said Smith, an employee of the Blue Haven Pools in Palm Springs, was found in a pickup truck outside the emergency entrance of Rancho Los Amigos Hospital.

Smith had burns on his forehead and apparently had been dragged some distance, Martin said. An autopsy showed he had died of an overdose of narcotics.

Attendants at the hospital said they found Smith's body after receiving an anonymous telephone call directing them to the victim.

Capt. Martin declined to discuss further details of the case other than to report that three men were under questioning.

In Palm Springs Earl Edwards, manager of the Blue Haven office here, said he had last seen Smith about 5 p.m. Saturday when he came in to pick up his weekly paycheck. He said there was nothing apparently wrong at that time.

"He was always a faithful worker and a hard worker," Edwards said.

Smith lived in Morengo Valley with his wife, Lorretta, and two children, Randy, 5, and Eva, 4.

MEN, ROCKET SET FOR SPACE SHOT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—Everything is "A-OK" for America's second man-in-space venture Tuesday morning.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) confirmed that 35-year-old Air Force Capt. Virgil I. Grissom will be the pilot Aboard "Liberty Bell 7," the Mercury man-in-space capsule for Tuesday's shot.

Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., who will be 40 years old

Tuesday, will be backup man for Grissom as he was for Navy Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr. who made America's first space hop May 5 aboard the Capsule Freedom 7.

Lt. Col. John A. Powers of NASA told reporters at a news conference that everything, including the weather, appears to be all set for Grissom's trip, scheduled to start around 8 a.m. EDT, Tuesday.

"All elements," he said, "are 'A-OK' for the MR-4 mission." MR-4 stands for Mercury-Redstone No. 4. Shepard's trip was MR-3.

Grissom, at 150 pounds, is the smallest of the seven Mercury astronauts. The Redstone rocket now poised on pad No. 5 will hurt him about 115 miles into space and 300 miles out to sea on a path roughly paralleling Shepard's flight.

Ahead of Grissom as the sun rose today were 24 hours of final physical examinations, electrical and mechanical checks on his "Liberty Bell 7" space capsule and Redstone rocket booster, last-minute instructions.

And, perhaps the hardest part of it all, waiting.

German Beauty Bedazzled By Miss Universe Glory

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — The royal world of Miss Universe opened with a flourish for Marlene Schmidt of Germany at a $35,000 coronation ball Sunday night.

Her jewel-studded tiara riding gracefully on her blonde head.

MOSCOW UPI — The United States and the Soviet Union began a second round of arms talks here today in the shadow of a Soviet warning that world disarmament hopes hang in the balance.

President Kennedy's special disarmament adviser, John J. McCloy, and Soviet negotiator Valerian Zorin sat down together at the Spiridonovka Palace to launch the new phase of the bilateral talks that opened in Washington last month.

The talks resumed only hours after the Communist party newspaper Pravda said that only Washington and Moscow can forge a meaningful disarmament treaty. Pravda this morning restated the Soviet position that any Soviet-American bilateral talks must take up the whole topic of general and total disarmament.

Pool Ice Puts Trio in Cooler

WESTPORT, Conn. UPI — Three teen-age boys were apprehended today while looting a vending machine of 200 pounds of ice.

They explained they wanted it "for a girl friend's swimming pool."

the new queen of world beauties was still caught in a Cinderella mood far from the Stuttgart research laboratory where she worked in pre-coronation days.

"I still can't believe it," said the green-eyed beauty. "It's so wonderful."

She danced half the night away before 900 socialites who paid $20 apiece to watch and admire her in a white satin bouffant skirt with fitted bodice and silver white gloves.

Ensign Her Escort Her escort, Navy Ensign Hugh J. Smith of New Orleans, cut a fine figure in his white dress uniform complete with sword. He spoke no German, but Miss Schmidt, who speaks virtually no English, didn't seem to mind.

"He's a good dancer," she smiled.

The grand ballroom of the Hotel Fontainebleau, plush with red velvet carpeting and stately marble columns, must have seemed far removed from her work as an electronics engineer, inspecting barometers, thermometers, and thermodynamic systems.

Fled East Germany For Miss Schmidt, 130 pounds distributed in 36 1/2-23-36 measurements over 5 feet 8 inches, Cinderella's story came true Saturday night.

While 8,000 spectators and a nation-wide television audience watched, judges named her the most beautiful of the 90 Miss Universe entries. The decision brought her a $5,000 check, a $5,000 mink coat, a $10,000 year's personal appearance contract, a movie screen test, and a wardrobe among other prizes.

ALL-OUT SAFETY DRIVE READIED

Preparations were being made today for a water safety drive in this city of swimming pools.

The Palm Springs Safety Council, in cooperation with city and civic groups, is beginning the pool safety drive, including a training course in safe swimming pool operation, Robert Hill, council president, announced during a meeting Friday.

The three-part program will be offered Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday next week, beginning at 7:30 p.m. on each day.

The program is presented in cooperation with the Palm Springs Fire and Police Departments, Palm Springs Chapter of the American Red Cross, and City Recreation Department, and the Chamber of Commerce. The instruction classes will be given at the city summer swimming pool on the Desert Inn grounds.

In addition to the training program, the Safety Council will forward a letter to each public and hotel pool operator listing the legal safety aid requirements for public pools. Norman Harrison, Palm Springs county health and safety director, told the Safety Council the state law operative since Nov. 1960 requires:

—Diagrammatic illustrations of artificial respiration procedures posted where clearly visible from the nearby deck;

—Posted telephone numbers of the nearest ambulance, hospital, fire or police department rescue service, physician or pool operator, plus instructions to begin artificial respiration in case of apparent need;

—One or more pool lights, strong poles with blunt ends or hooks at least 12 feet in length for recovery, and one or more life rings, approximately 17 inches in outside diameter. The life rings are to be equipped with a 3-16 inch line long enough to span the maximum pool width.

In addition, pools without life guards must be posted with letters at least four inches high. The sign must also state "children should not use pool without an adult in attendance," Harrison said.

Committeemen

A committee to draft the letter includes Sherman Dickinson, president of the Palm Springs Hotel and Apartment Assn., Gus Kettmann, chief of police, Robert Hill, president of the Safety Council, and William P. Leonosio of the Palm Springs Fire Department.

No charge is made for any of the classes, which are for adults only. Persons attending may come prepared to swim and participate if desired, but it is not required. Hill said. Certificates will be awarded by the Chamber of Commerce for attendance at all three classes.

2,000 Men Battle Kings River Blaze

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Some 2,000 firefighters were on the line today in the battle to stem the raging Kings River forest fire, worst of more than 500 fires burning across parched northern California.

The 13,000-acre blaze leaped the river Sunday and split along two fronts. Both fronts were turning into commercial timber lands Sunday night as additional fire fighters were ordered into fire zones.

Twins Progress After Transplant

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Identical twins who underwent the West Coast's fourth kidney transplantation three days ago were reported "making good progress" today at the UCLA Medical Center.

The patients are 41-year-old twins Robert and Williams Nelson of Garden Grove.

During the rare, nine-hour operation Saturday, the first of its kind in Southern California, a healthy kidney was removed from Robert and transplanted to William.

Doctors had diagnosed William as suffering from chronic glomerulonephritis, often referred to as Bright's disease. The disorder resulted in the failure of both his kidneys.

In order to be certain that the twins were identical and not fraternal, small, one-half inch, diamond-shaped skin grafts were exchanged by the twins last May.

The grafts were successful. It was the second kidney transplantation to be performed at UCLA. The first was between a mother and daughter. Doctors who performed both operations said the kidney they transplanted in the first operation survived for five months but the recipient ultimately died.

Swimming Class Series to Open

A new two-week series of swimming lessons at the city-operated summer pool at the Desert Inn starts Tuesday, Howard Haddock, city recreation director announced today.

Classes will be offered five days a week from 1 to 2 p.m. for beginner and intermediate swimmers and from 5 to 6 p.m. for advanced swimmers under the direction of Vernon Howeth.

All children must register for classes today or Tuesday, Haddock said.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The evening stars are Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history: In 1821, Spain ceded Florida to the United States.

In 1916, Congress approved the Federal Farm Loan Act.

In 1936, the Spanish Civil War began as Gen. Francisco Franco led the army forces in a revolt against the Republican government of Spain.

In 1948, southern Democrats from 11 states met in Birmingham, Ala., and organized a states' rights party to oppose the Truman-Barkley ticket adopted by the regular Democratic convention.

A thought for today: Norwegian writer Henrik Ibsen said, "I hold that man is in the right who is most closely in league with the future."

CANYON DRIVE CONTRACT TO BE LET BY PS COUNCIL

The contract for the North Palm Canyon Drive widening project will be let tonight in an adjourned meeting of the City Council, a job that will run close to $500,000.

Low bidder for the job is E. L. Sager Co., which bid $494,789.50.

U. S. Forest Service researchers pointed out that like any other big forest fire, the blaze was generating the heat and energy of an atomic bomb every five to seven minutes.

"It's putting up a column of smoke like an A-bomb too," reported Dick Johnson, Forest Service spokesman here.

"We're in real serious trouble on this one, and by morning (today) we'll have another 800 men or the lines —2,000 in all."

One tongue of the fire headed for Balch, a Pacific Gas & Electric Co. headquarters community 38 miles east of Fresno. But backfires appeared to have halted the blaze, and evacuation of Balch's 12 families was not planned at present.

At last count northern California fires had destroyed more than 100,000 acres. Four new outbreaks were reported Sunday which forestry officials said had "an awful lot of potential."

Beck To Helm Beauty Shows

Martin Beck, Palm Springs Playhouse director and producer, has been signed by the Miss World International Pageant to produce and direct both the Miss Los Angeles Pageant and the Miss California Pageant.

Both contests will be held in Santa Monica at the Civic Auditorium on Friday, Aug. 11, and Saturday, Aug. 12.

The two productions will have celebrity panels of judges, including Joe Pasternak of MGM; Don Loper, fashion executive; Vargas, the artist; columnist Joan Winchell, and Palm Springs resident actor Harpo Marx. Master of ceremonies will be George Jessel.

Both of the shows will be telecast over Channel 5.

Andrew Smith Services Set

Funeral services will be held Tuesday for Andrew J. Smith, 84, of Whitewater, who died Friday at his home following an illness of a few days.

A native of Arkansas, he had been a resident of Whitewater for 30 years.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. J. W. Bohannon, Mt. Pleasant, Texas, and a nephew, Jack Bohannon, Gainesville, Fla.

Services will be held at the Wiefels and Son Chapel in Banning with the Banning Lodge 665 F. & A.M. officiating. Interment will be in Sunnyslope cemetery.

Deejays Facing Union Expulsion

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Five employees at radio station KFWB today faced possible expulsion and heavy fines from the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists (AFTRA).

The union, for the first time in its 24-year history, Sunday filed charges of strike breaking against Jim Hawthorne, Bill Angel, B. Mitchell Reed, Don French and Chuck Blore. The union said they crossed an AFTRA picket line at the station which was struck by the union a week ago over wages and working conditions.

Niagara Falls Ride Draws Fine

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (UPI) —A husky, 30-year-old Negro, who successfully conquered Niagara Falls Saturday in a "tailmade ball, pleaded guilty today to a charge of "stunting" in the Niagara River.

Nathan Boya of New York City paid a $100 fine and $13 in court costs and was released.

Boya was taken to the chambers of Ontario County Provincial Magistrate Johnstone L. Roberts after his discharge this morning from Greater Niagara General Hospital.

He had been accused of violating a Niagara Parks Commission law prohibiting stunt in the river by riding the ball he called a "Plunge-O-Spher" over the falls.

The muscular daredevil was quoted as saying "I have integrated Niagara Falls" after he rode the six-foot ball over the Canadian Horseshoe Falls.

Boya became the fifth person in history to survive the 160-foot plunge over the falls. The New York adventurer appeared generally in good shape. He sustained only bruises on his back and a few other aches and pains.

Check Suspect To Be Returned

Palm Springs policewoman Mrs. Marge Bowman left Saturday for Huntsville, Tex., to return Vena Druce Buckley here on suspicion of passing $500 worth of bad checks in Palm Springs.

The suspect, reportedly being released from a Texas woman's prison on similar charges, allegedly passed the checks in Palm Springs during October, 1958.

Spain Marks 25th Anniversary of War

MADRID (UPI) —Spain today commemorated the 25th anniversary of the beginning of the bloody civil war that brought Generalissimo Francisco Franco to power.

As usual, the occasion was observed solemnly. Highlight of the commemoration was an evening parade of 70,000 war veterans and members of the armed forces.

In many Roman Catholic churches, masses were said for the one million Spaniards who died in the three years of fierce fighting.

Despite the lingering, bitter feelings caused by the conflict, the government observes the anniversary annually because the

RAILROAD BOUT OVER CONTROL OF WP OPENED

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A bitter battle of railroad giants began at 9:30 a.m. PDT today with Interstate Commerce Commission hearings over control of the Western Pacific.

The WP, a small and financially sound firm, is being sought by both the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe, whose historic competition has often been marked with violence.

The SP has stated that it wants WP so that it can eliminate some wasteful duplications of track and maintenance.

However, it intends to operate WP as an independent firm and to aggressively seek business for the WP routes, even though the WP tracks compete with SP lines which are roughly parallel.

Santa Fe has charged that SP is really seeking a monopoly. To prevent this, Santa Fe began purchasing WP stock hours after it learned last October of SP's intentions.

Santa Fe now holds 20 per cent and SP 10 per cent. But neither railroad is permitted to obtain control unless it wins the ICC hearings.

ICC commissioners recently have made it known that they generally favor railroad consolidations in the interests of economy.

The WP dispute, however, differs from similar cases in that the WP, located in a rapidly growing area, is making money and hopes for a 40 per cent increase in its business by 1970.

Thus, the ICC decision may be a precedent influencing future cases when a railroad attempts to take over another which is financially healthy.

Utility commissioners of six Western states announced July 7 that they want WP to remain independent.

But WP itself has taken the side of Santa Fe. WP has stated that there is so much merger fever in the industry that it would be only a matter of time before it is bought out.

WP is attractive because its 1,187 miles of track are key lines in both the transcontinental Overland Route and in a North-South Pacific Coast line via the Bieber Route. Each of these routes were originally built to break SP monopolies.

Francisco forces consider the war was the start of a "national crusade" that saved Spain from Communism.

The parade was set for 7 p.m., the approximate time that Franco flew to Spanish Morocco on July 17, 1936, and assumed leadership of the powerful army forces in the revolt against the republican government in Madrid. The uprising broke out in full force the next day.

The ensuing fighting devastated the countryside, ruined the industries, and left the nation bankrupt. The war raised such passions that thousands of foreigners volunteered to fight. Russia actively supported the republicans, while Germany and Italy sent men, planes and guns to the Franco forces.

The conflict split Spain down the middle, and in many cases brother fought brother, father fought son.

Franco, now 68 and in robust health, remains firmly in power with no apparent challenger to his position. He never has resumed relations with nations controlled by Communists because of the Communist backing of the republican side.

Missile Safety To Be Studied At Conference

RIVERSIDE — Air Force and industry experts will sit down this week to investigate new ways to make missiles safer, especially the potentially destructive propellants that power them.

The 47th Air Force - Industry Safety Conference, a closed affair, will be convened Tuesday for two days at the Mission Inn in Riverside. More than 400 missile propellant specialists from throughout the nation are scheduled to attend.

Keynoting the sessions will be Maj. Gen. Perry B. Griffith, deputy inspector general for safety, Headquarters USAF, whose Pentagon-level Directorate of Missile Safety at nearby Norton Air Force Base is sponsoring the conference.

Seventeen Air Force authorities on propellant safety, including three other general officers, will talk on such subjects as solid and liquid fuels, sensing devices, public safety aspects of propellant waste disposal, protective clothing, environmental factors, micrometeorological data, missile siting considerations, cryogenic cleanliness, and the transportation, storage, and transfer of propellants.

In addition to missile propellant specialists from throughout the Air Force and all major United States companies manufacturing missiles, components, propellants, and protective equipment, conferencees will include representatives from the U. S. Army, Navy, and Marine Corps, British Royal Air Force, and British Canadian Air Force.

Nixon Supported For California Governor Race

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—California's Republican leaders have taken the first step in what many observers feel is a draft of Richard M. Nixon as the party's 1962 gubernatorial candidate.

The executive committee of the Republican State Central Committee, meeting in a one-day session here Saturday, backed the former Vice President in a resolution that said the governorship would "broaden and make even more valuable Richard Nixon's extraordinary leadership — a leadership our whole country so desperately needs."

"We believe his election as governor would not only restore to California the front rank position we so long enjoyed before 1958," the resolution continued.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Nixon's most likely Democratic rival for the governorship, replying to the unsuccessful 1960 Presidential candidate's statement last week that he would decide within 60 days whether to run for the governorship, said he thought Nixon might well run against him.

"He has a big decision to make, Brown told a press conference. He went on to warn Nixon he won't be able to have "one foot in Sacramento and one foot in Washington" if he runs.

Brown predicted that no matter what candidate the Republicans put up, the Democrats would again carry California in 1962. He thought, however, the Republicans would choose a "rough and tough" man for the gubernatorial race.

Brown has not announced his candidacy for a second term, but observers believe he will run.

$2¼ MILLION HIKE News Media Facing Increased Wire Costs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Newspapers, broadcasters and all other users of leased teleprinter, telephoto and telephone circuits face an increase of up to $2,250,000 in yearly charges by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and Western Union.

The Federal Communications Commission made the estimate in prescribing or authorizing substantial changes in the design of rates for leased teleprinter services of Western Union and leased teleprinter, telephoto and telephone circuits of AT&T.

The changes were detailed by the FCC in a 160-page document released over the weekend. It constituted the FCC's initial decision in a five-year, four-month investigation of the rates and regulations for leased facilities of the two carriers.

Says Claims Excessive

The FCC said AT&T and Western Union claims for 10 per cent earnings were excessive and unwarranted but "we conclude that the proper level of private line earnings approximate 9 per cent for Western Union and 7¼ per cent for AT&T."

The FCC estimated the revenue increase for AT&T at $1,500,000 annually and for Western Union at $750,000. The overall increase will result despite the fact there will be some reductions for some services.

One effect of the changes will

PRICELESS WORKS Huge Art Theft Stuns Little Riviera Village

ST. TROPEZ, France (UPI)—The people of this little fishing village were elated six years ago when a benefactor willed them a fortune in rare paintings and statues.

They converted an old chapel into a picturesque museum to display paintings with such illustrious signatures as Matisse, Utrillo and Signac.

The village fathers insured the masterpieces against fire. A resident volunteered as night watchman—without pay.

Last month the municipal council discussed installing a burglar alarm. But life is rather carefree on the Riviera and nothing was done about it immediately.

Steal 57 Paintings

Today it was too late. Thieves entered the gallery over the weekend and took 57 paintings in one of the biggest art thefts in modern times.

Authorities of the Annonciade Museum said the works were priceless but they put a nominal value of $2 million on them.

Not a single one of the paintings had been insured against theft.

Land Purchase For Low Cost Homes Reported

Reliable sources, who declined to be named, reported today that a group of Palm Springs developers had purchased seven and one half acres of land just north of the city limits in the Radio Road section and plan to construct low-cost housing for residents being evicted from Section 14.

The informants told The Desert Sun the group is seeking FHA backing and is confident of getting it.

Activity of the still unnamed financiers was first revealed last week by their attorney, Thurman Arnold.

Godfrey Hit For Remark About Flags

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Radio and television star Arthur Godfrey found himself under attack today as a result of a remark he made on a (CBS) network broadcast about the number of flags displayed in San Diego on July 4.

Godfrey, chatting freely on his nationwide show, said, "I was in San Diego on July 4th and I saw only five flags in New York on Madison Avenue."

Scores of San Diegans took the remark as an attack on their patriotism and telephoned protests to the network's local station (KFMB).

Godfrey telephoned to San Diego from Detroit Friday in an attempt to calm the storm.

He told a newsmen, "I love San Diego and I know San Diego loves its country and its flag. My wife and I are seriously considering moving there."

Mayor Charles Dail said he wanted a public retraction.

In a letter to the network's local station Dail said, "I venture to say there was not a single block in this city without at least that many, or more, flags prominently displayed. I shall expect your public retraction immediately."

Navy Denies Jet Horseplay Near Airliner

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—The Navy said today no horseplay was involved in an incident involving two jet fighters and a DC8 jetliner over Thermal on Thursday.

The pilot of the United Air Lines plane said he had to turn suddenly to avoid the two jets, adding they appeared to be "playing tag."

But a spokesman at North Island Naval Air Station said the two fighters were tracking for a simulated missile shot. This required one pilot to fly behind the other.

He added that the fighter pilots and the DC8 had been warned of each other's presence, the jets were under control and in constant communications with Los Angeles radar control.

Sinatra Must Give Answer In Disc Suit

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Frank Sinatra and several firms must show cause next Friday why an injunction should not be granted Capitol Record Co. halting distribution of a Sinatra record album.

Capitol Friday filed suit against Sinatra charging him with "gross breach of trust and confidence, unfair competition and wrongly interfering with Capitol's business relations."

Co-defendants were Record Sales Co. Los Angeles, Bristol Manufacturing Co., Melody Sales Co. San Francisco, Reprise Records and Essex Productions. The latter two firms are controlled by the singer.

Capitol claimed Sinatra's Reprise album, "Swing Along With Me," "closely resembles in concept, type and repertoire, style accompaniment and title," an album he recorded last March for Capitol, "Come Swing With Me."

The plaintiff asked a temporary injunction to restrain distribution of the "Swing Along With Me" album under that title.

The hearing date was set by Superior Judge Gordon L. Files.

Flier's Parents Still Getting Faked Letters

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI) — Every week, regularly as clockwork, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Posa of this suburban Los Angeles community receive a letter from their son, Eugene.

They do not know and probably never will that Maj. Eugene Posa was among the crew of an RB47 reconnaissance plane shot down July 1, 1960, over the Barents Sea by the Russians.

Friday the Air Force declared Posa and two other crewmen officially dead.

But the letters will continue to come from the major, according to his brother, Phillip.

"I can't tell the old folks, the shock would be too much," said the brother, who weekly reads to his 80-year-old parents the letter he composes for his dead brother.

American Fashion Makers Enjoy Paris Competition

Most top American fashion designers welcome the competition of the upcoming shows in Paris.

Such fashion notables as Bill Blass, Norman Norell and James Galanos insist that, far from overwhelming American fashion expression, French competition actually stimulates it.

"I do not follow Paris dictates myself," Blass says. "However, I am often inspired by them as I would be by going to an art exhibition or a ballet."

Norell, who also disclaims any direct French influence, nevertheless admires his French colleagues. "Balenciaga, Chanel, Gres and Givenchy are some of my favorites," he says.

Galanos, too, professes to find "Paris designers and designs are inspirational and serve many purposes. The whole world idolizes Balenciaga," he says. "This is true greatness when both the elite and the common man can appreciate this artist's work."

Of those questioned, only Pauline Trigere describes herself as indifferent to the Paris showings. Her point of view: "We feel we often anticipate world trends in America."

Neither, although "reasons why" differ, do the Americans resent the mass reproduction of Paris originals.

Blass and Trigere feel that American designers can afford to ignore the French imports. Their theory is that, where designing for Americans is concerned, the Americans have a decided advantage. Women who have admired French ideas from afar, they think, are often disappointed when they see them close-up. Familiarity with the French product breeds—if not contempt—at least an understanding that most French fashions are ill-suited to our American suburban - shopping center way of life.

"I don't believe that any Paris designers can visualize the typical American woman and her way of life," says Bill Blass. "We must visualize her when we design."

Miss Trigere, who also believes that French clothes look well on French, not on American women, says, "They are made for women who want to lead a life of illusion rather than reality. Women think they are buying 'status' when they are merely buying a shoddy imitation."

Explaining that most reproductions lose something, Galanos says "I should prefer to reproduce my own work, if it were possible."

Village Visitors Become Residents on Debby Drive

Village visitors for the past five years, Mr. and Mrs. Merle C. Sexauer, and son David, have purchased a home on Debby Drive.

The Sexauers, formerly of La Mesa, have owned a Palm Desert lot for several years, and had planned to build a home on that property. However, when the former owners of their Debby Drive home offered to trade for their La Mesa home, they took the opportunity to move to the desert sooner than planned.

David, 17-year-old, will be a senior student at Palm Springs High next fall.

The Sexauers have two grown, married sons, Jerry and Ronnie, who live in the La Mesa area.

A retired merchant, Merle Sexauer will take his family to San Diego for the month of August.

DeShongs Begin Trip to Europe

Mr. and Mrs. Guy DeShong of Palm Desert and daughters, Gail and Alveda, will leave for New York tomorrow by jet.

Before commencing a five-week European tour, they will spend three days enjoying Broadway shows.

Their tour begins in London and proceeds on to Paris, Amsterdam and Geneva. In Geneva, they will travel by motor coach to Lucerne, where they will spend several days. They will train to Stresa in the lake country of northern Italy, where they will enjoy sailing and sightseeing before entraining for the Swiss Alps, Milan, Venice, Florence and Rome. Here, they leave the guided tour and fly on to Madrid to visit family friends.

Last stop on the itinerary is Lisbon, which they will visit before jetting to San Francisco on August 24, via New York.

In Woodside, they will spend a week with Mrs. DeShong's parents, the David Bohannons, before returning to their Ironwood home.

Pears Processed An Ancient Way

Dried pears in strips like licorice?

That's the possibility raised by a University of California food scientist who has developed a new product, dehydrated pear puree. Almost any shape — strips, sheets or cookie-like chunks — will be possible.

The process worked out by Martin W. Miller could result in mechanization of the ancient task of cutting pears in half and laying them in the sun to dry, a university spokesman said.

It also makes good use of much of the fruit which now must be rejected because it is misshapen or undersized. Miller took a cue from a Middle East product known to the Arabs as "apricot leather." He made a puree of pears, then poured the liquid on trays and dried it at 110 degrees for about 15 hours.

The result was concentrated pear, minus the skin which often interferes with quality of traditionally dried pear halves.

The flavor is like ordinary dried pears, and may even be improved in the future by adding pear essence — liquified flavor components recaptured during processing.

Miller said the new product might be used by campers or the armed forces as a compact, lightweight chewy confection. It also could be reconstituted into a sweet pear sauce by adding water.

NEW YORK (UPI) — I have this feeling that the housewife of today just isn't ready for witchcraft. Our girls can't hold a broomstick, or a vacuum cleaner, or the old-time witches of, say, MacBeth's acquaintance. This impression comes from Thursday night's play on "Great Ghost Tales," a not-so-great tale titled "Lucy." Joel Carpenter's original script for NBC-TV's live dramatic production didn't set any cauldrons to boiling. It lacked a few hanks of extra care. Lucy, the 1961-model witch in Carpenter's story, was, I presume, a neglected, frustrated suburban housewife whose marital communication wires had come unspliced. When we met her, she was toying with a prized locket and trying to acquire supernatural powers once enjoyed by a great-grandmother. Eventually, those powers seemed to reach her and she tested them by following a curse at a man. The man keeled over. Dead.

Didn't Resemble Macbeth Now, what sort of imprecation caused this damage? Was it a rousing, curdling, Macbethian roundelay like, "eye of newt and toe of frog, wool of bat and tongue of dog, adder's fork and blind-worm's sting, lizard's leg and howlet's wing," to cite just a few choice ingredients from the witch family cookbook? Neh. All Lucy did was turn to her intended victim and say, "I would like to have the power of a witch. I would like to see you dead, to see you dead, to see you dead."

Lee Grant, the actress named for two great soldiers, took her lumps in the title role like a good soldier. She's a fine actress, really, but didn't have much to work with Thursday night. She was way ahead of the script, which seemed to be a rough-hewn draft of an improvised dramatic workshop scene.

A Doubtful Pattern Fits

Little wonder James Hoffa is subject to so much suspicion.

He has admitted that he pays for everything by cash or money order, a rather unusual practice for a man with a $50,000 salary. At last week's convention, the Teamsters boosted his pay to $75,000 a year—plus a generous expense allowance. Lots of cash.

Anyone who doesn't keep a check record of money paid out has a good reason for not wanting to do so. Racketeers handle all transactions in cash to hide their operations and, quite often, their incomes. For many it has been their downfall.

Just why Hoffa uses the cash method he hasn't explained. No matter how honest he may be it makes him suspect in the minds of a great many people. Not only that, it is certainly a questionable practice for a person in his position and with his power.

Another reason why the Teamster boss invites suspicion is the pride he seems to take in having kept within the law. He likes to boast about the number of times he has been cleared of charges that have been made against him. Such an attitude is enough to make anyone wonder if his only restraint is to keep within the law.

A person with such power and responsibility should have a much higher objective—a standard of ethics which would place him above reproach. He claims to have a strong sense of moral responsibility but his actions make it hard to believe.

Few people question the benefits of organized labor, not only to union members but to the nation as a whole. But the methods employed by such leaders as James Hoffa are harmful to both the national welfare and the cause of organized labor.

Honest and capable labor leaders have been making a determined effort in recent years to rid the movement of racketeers and unscrupulous bosses. The real test will come when Hoffa tries to get back into the good graces of the AFL-CIO. This effort will be watched with unusual interest in and out of labor circles.

There is no reason to believe that Jimmy Hoffa has changed. Only one thing is certain—he does have more power.

(Cincinnati Enquirer)

The Ohio Senate has passed a bill which is clearly in the interest of people who make a business of replacing broken window glass in automobiles, and as clearly is against the interest of the people who must pay for it.

The bill would require automobile manufacturers to install laminated glass in door windows, instead of the present tempered glass. This would suit the convenience of glass dealers, because they can cut laminated glass to fit any size. Tempered glass is manufactured to the specifications of individual cars, and once formed cannot be cut without damage. This means that glass dealers must stock the individually tailored glass windows, or ask their customers to wait until the proper piece of glass is ordered. It is not possible to insert laminated glass into raising and lowering mechanisms designed for tempered glass.

Laminated glass is used in windshields, but so far as safety is concerned, tempered glass actually has features which give it an advantage over the other.

The use of tempered glass in windows has been approved by, among other qualified organizations, the National Safety Council, which is certainly on the side of the motorist. European car makers even use tempered glass in windshields. But lobbyists have managed to get the glass dealers' proposition before 11 other legislatures. In nine of them, it has been turned down.

If the Ohio House succumbs to the same pressures which apparently influenced the Senate, Ohioans will have the unenviable distinction of being residents of a state which must have its automobiles specially equipped before shipment. And that will cost them.

Remember When . . .

JULY 17, 1951

Dick Johnson, 28, of Cathedral City, broke the world glider record by soaring 365 miles. He took off from Norris Hill, near Elmir, N. Y., and flew to a spot near the Norfolk Airport, keeping his 487-pound glider in the air for eight hours.

Harry Oliver, commander of Fort Oliver at Thousand Palms, leveled on the state division of highways for "dragging their feet" on the improvement of what he called "Hell's 10 Miles," a stretch of highway between Thousand Palms and Garnet. He wanted the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce to back him instead of complaining about trucks using Ramon Road.

JULY 17, 1941

Resort area residents were keeping their fingers crossed waiting for Gov. Culbert Olson to sign the Palm Springs Tramway Bill. There was some debate about the legal limit within which the bill must be signed having expired, but it was hoped that because of the Fourth of July holiday, the signature still might come through.

Ralph Nesmith, Palm Springs dog catcher, had a number of animals that had been left with him by departing winter residents that he was offering to any residents willing to give them a good home. No charges were involved.

A meeting was called by Mrs. R. L. Glasby, president of the Southern District of the California Federation of Women's Clubs to determine what women could do in the interest of national defense.

JULY 17, 1931

A dispute was under study by the Board of Supervisors involving right of way on Palm Canyon where the Indians wanted to collect a toll for the use of the road.

It was announced a great deal of construction and development was being planned on the Araby tract under direction of Ashton Dearholt of Hollywood.

Card-Carrying Communists

Dear Abby . . .

. . . by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: My daughter was asked to be a bridesmaid again. This will be the third time this year. Each time she had to buy her own dress and shoes, and get a present for the bride. Each time it has run us about $60.

Our daughter goes to college, and does not earn her own money. We have another child in college, and have to budget ourselves very closely to make ends meet.

Am I wrong in thinking that if the bride's mother wants her to have a big wedding, with bridesmaids, she should pay for the bridesmaids' dresses?

CUTTING CORNERS DEAR CUTTING: The most common practice is for the bridesmaids to buy their own gowns. The other way is the exception, and not the rule. The bride's mother has an obligation to keep the dress modestly priced. If she wants super-duper bridesmaids' dresses, she should buy them. Generally, if a bridesmaid can't afford to buy her own dress more than once, she should decline the invitations.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is his mother's "favorite child." Our five-year-old daughter is her favorite grandchild. I object to this favoritism because it is so obvious it is sickening.

We have two other children whom she ignores completely. When one of our other children has a birthday, this stupid grandmother will come with a simple little gift for the birthday child, and a very expensive and lavish gift for the favorite child "so she won't feel left out." But she doesn't do this for the other children. She takes her favorite grandchild to her home for the weekends, and is teaching her to call HER Mother, and me by my first name. My husband is as annoyed over this as I am, and says anything I decide to do about it is all right with him. What should I do?

TROUBLED DEAR TROUBLED: Since the trouble-maker is your husband's mother, HE should tell her emphatically that, unless she treats all your children equally, none of them will be available to her. But ease into it. Grandma may not be aware of the prejudice she's showing.

What's bothering you? For a personal reply, write to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Include a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

This Side of The Sun

By R. F. 'Phat' Graettinger

Now an invention which supplies
A way to combat smell and flies.

From an article, clipped from a newspaper in the west end of San Bernardino County, I gather that all of this fuss and argument about the use of barnyard by-products to nourish our lawns in the fall, was just a waste of time and words for many years here.

ACROSS THE TOP of the clipping, sent me by a well-meaning friend, was written: "Palm Springs Problem Solved!"

Now the city wherein this newspaper is located is adjacent to many dairies which supply the metropolitan district and also the location of many feed lots where steaks on the hoof stop over to gain more weight before going to market.

THEY HAVE the same problem we had before the City Council cracked down on the use on lawns or gardens of anything that taints the air.

But instead of passing a law, they turned to science. And an El Paso bacteriologist galloped to the rescue. After long study he developed an enzyme catalyst which not only renders the stuff odorless but provides a compost suitable for many uses, such as on lawns and in gardens.

THAT ISN'T ALL there is to it, however.

This new solution, called Parkstone after its inventor, Dr. Ed Parks, when sprayed around the dairies and feed lots, discourages flies.

They don't hang around and later come up town to pester people.

So it takes care of both problems.

NOW, WE HAVEN'T any dairies or feed lots in town but we do have stables which provide horses for people to ride, a healthy practice which is part of our way of life and thereby coupled to our economy. Council has decreed that we can no longer use that smelly stuff as a lawn nutrient. They did that after years of discussion.

THIS FALL, therefore, we are expected to sniff the evening breezes boldly without fear of contaminating our nostrils with that taint which was our trademark for so many years during lawn-planting time.

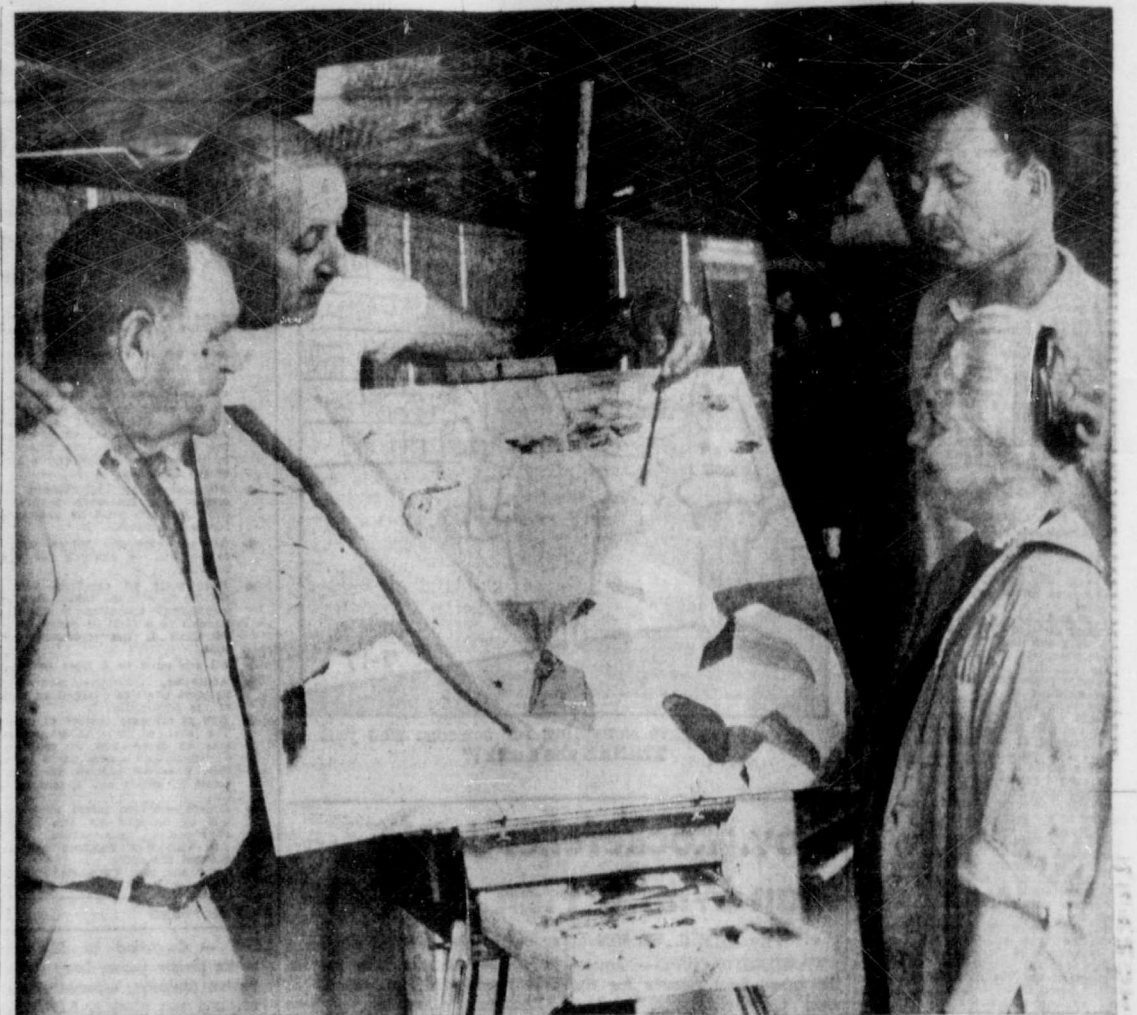

At the same time, many years ago, when agitation started to eliminate the effluvia, there was talk of getting rid of the flies.

BUT WE STILL HAVE them—the flies—and the sound of the swatter is heard not only in the fall, but also in spring and all summer.

No use to pass a law, flies can't read.

Perhaps this barnyard ban effective this fall, will help. If it doesn't, perhaps we'd better look to science.

In the meantime, let us spray.

HARRY STERNBERG, distinguished American painter and teacher of the Art Students League in New York, heads art workshops that continue through Aug. 11 at ISOMATA, the laylild school of music and arts. Desert area artists participating in the instruction are, from left, Roderick Burnham, Sternberg, Mrs. Franz Alexander and Harold Hicks. The painting workshop is only part of a broad arts program being conducted at the mountain resort.

President Is Showing Wisdom of His Years

By HOLMES ALEXANDER

WASHINGTON — It may be that the Lord still loves us, and that President Kennedy will get a second chance, on a reduced scale, to salvage American prestige.

For example, the British moved an old-fashioned pacifier named Tommy Atkins into the Queen's economic province of Kuwait, and the guns of the American Sixth Fleet silently nodded approval. Mr. Kennedy's weakness, not his strength, consented.

Again, General De Gaulle is moving French troops back to the NATO line in Europe, giving signs that he will liquidate the Algerian struggle by an unsatisfactory, but inevitable partition. Arbitrary living compartments, or segregation, seem to represent the Free World's best of a bad bargain on this pluralistic planet. But De Gaulle's purpose is to put first things first — in this instance, Berlin. His move may make him, as he deserves to be, the First Soldier of Europe. Once more, Mr. Kennedy's failures are his tutor.

In giving way to older methods and older men, the President is showing the wisdom of his years. Since the Cuban disaster, JFK has sought out Generals Eisenhower and MacArthur. He has brought General Maxwell Taylor to the White House as a military aide. Only this last move seems dubious. It has put the Pentagon in a temper. Taylor's position seems a usurpation of the legal status which Congress gave to the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, currently Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer. How can two men be the chief military adviser of the President?

Also, Taylor may not be the best authority on how to win the Battle of Berlin. He is a proponent of limited war preparedness. This position is sound enough, but will hardly stand alone. A ground war in Europe, with limited objectives, would give Khrushchev too many advantages. An all-out war, with the objective of destroying Russia's ability to dominate the world, would be one that Big K is unlikely to provoke.

But aside from the Taylor appointment, the merits of which are still on trial, the Kennedy Administration gives many signs of learning by its mistakes. The White House Adviser Walt Rostow has followed Ed Murrow in suggesting that each friendly nation "will be permitted to fashion, out of its own culture and its own ambitions, the kind of modern society it wants" — even, by inference, a rightist dictatorship.

There are significant signs that we are going to intervene, openly and independently, in the Dominican Republic rather than permit Castro to score again. A real demonstration of responsibility with-power in the Caribbean would work wonders for American prestige. It is a product which springs full-born from the union of Action and Success, as JFK saw in his own image between November and February when he wore the victor's laurels.

Prestige cannot be fabricated with Ed Murrow shows or bought with Foreign Aid funds. But let us do our Hemispheric duty, and we will return to our place in the sun.

To become a Hemispheric figure, rather than a World figure, may seem to be a come-down, but only to the bloodshot eye of the internationalist. Just as the democratic title "Mr." President outranks the verbosity and pomposities of regal appellations, the honor of being First in the Americas far surpasses es any other position.

It would be illogical to suppose that Mr. Kennedy, who is as human as the rest of us, would voluntarily take a reduction in rank, and blow out the torches that Democratic Presidents Wilson and Roosevelt lighted for their global triumphs which, luckily, never came off. Not JFK's strength and mightiness, but his weakness and recent humiliations, could force him to seek his rightful level.

To be the President of the United States, with all the inherent responsibilities but without unhealthy swellings of the hand, is enough for any man. It may be that the mysterious ways of Providence are working for us in the early disasters of 1961.

Security Sales Set For Air Force PX's

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — Thanks to Bache & Co., New York securities firm, members of the U.S. Air Force serving overseas will soon be able to pick up a few shares of A.T.&T. the next time they drop by their PX's for cigarettes and toothpaste.

A deal has been made whereby 35 branches of the firm will be opened at bases in Britain, Germany, Turkey, Greece and the Netherlands. There will be direct wires to New York and the Stock Exchange. The branches will be staffed by experienced, specially trained, registered investment counsellors, licensed by the National Association of Security Dealers.

Off we go.
Into the wild blue chips
Off we go.
Followed by more.

It's all a part of the Air Force's "Project Wheel," its program to keep dollars from being burned up overseas. It's all a part, too, of the recognition — startling as it might have seemed to Eddie Rickbacker and members of the Lafayette Escadrille of World War I — that the fly-boy business is here to stay. And its members will not be treated as second class expatriates.

"U.S. armed forces and U.S. citizens abroad have shown an increasing interest in sound investing," stock exchange president Keith Funston told us when asked for a statement about this new service. "This extension of member firm services in Europe is still another development by the Exchange Community to meet this need."

Too many fliers were taking flyers. And vice versa. That's why the Air Force made a move that not even Clausewitz could ever have thought of. No longer will the airman engaged in a delicate mission on the edge of the iron curtain have to worry about how his money is doing in an Ecuadorian mutual fund. The man in the blue serge suit from Bache will have talked him into a much sounder portfolio, featuring good solid American oatmeal stocks and other perennial winners, like aspirin.

"Systematic savings and judicious investment are integral parts of project wheel," one of Wheel's top wheels, Lt. Col. Oscar J. Stumpf declared as he signed the contract with the Bache people. "We hope that this new service will provide AFEX (Air Force Exchange) customers with additional opportunity to provide for their future financial security."

The airman — as well as countless other servicemen overseas — have been fair game for a long time for stock-gimmick purveyors who work the camps and command posts.

"Best known case concerns sales of shares in various Panamanian corporations," a cable from a concerned officer in Frankfurt reads. "The most disturbing aspect of all 'door to door' sales is the custom or writing programs far beyond the means of the investor. This practice has been sufficiently prevalent to have the Air Force order several hundred thousand copies of Kiplinger's 'Changing Times,' which dealt with this particular program."

In addition, there have been many less than marginal operators placing Canadian issues among the military with inaccurate or fraudulent prospectuses.

Lucky Ramstein Air Force Base, Frankfurt, is the first to have a brokerage office placed in its shopping center. "It will," the Air Force proudly announced, "bring a complete line of investment services . . . sell mutual funds, trade stocks and securities, provide up-to-date market analyses and offer free investment counseling . . . if Frankfurt's connection to New York is disturbed for any reason (Ed. Note: World War III or something like that) the market information can be relayed by Telex from Geneva instead."

Next will come offices in Bielefeld, Rhine-Main and Hahn, Germany; Alconbury, South Ruislip, Benlue, Lakenheath and Sculthorpe in England, and Ankara, Turkey. Then all the others. A Bache man swore on a dry martini at the Overseas Press Club last night that the company couldn't make a quarter out of this service for four or five years. It's a long-range project, he said. It was somehow a more reassuring statement than the news from Washington that we are beefing up the National Guard.

Letters to the Editor . . .

To the Editor,
The Desert Sun

Congratulations on the dream come true, the Tramway.

Since we came here in 1947 much has been spoken, written, and movie pictures shown of the scenic and wonderful project. Having seen it in Switzerland, we realized what it would mean to our community and business.

With so much obstruction we often wondered if our hope, as well as your efforts were all in vain!

We wish you luck in seeing its completion for a prosperous venture to all our Palm Springs community, and Southern California, as well as all of our great state.

Thanks to our Jimmie Cooper of our Chamber of Commerce and to all who have been responsible in bringing this great recreational project to us.

Yanks Top Two Day Events

Budd, Boston, And Rudolph Are Stars

COW (UPI) — Frank Budd, Ralph Boston and Wilma Rudolph emerged as the individual heroes for the United States in its two-day dual track meet victory over Russia, but Coach Jim Elliott today insisted two Yanks who finished second made the big difference.

Elliott, genuinely proud of his team's showing despite the fact that nine Yanks refused to take time from their work to make the trip here, singled out steeplechaser George Young and distance runner Max Truex, both of whom finished second in their events, for praise.

"I thought it was a good showing by a bunch of good boys," said Elliott. "I also thought George Young taking second place in the steeplechase at a time when it really looked like we were going to need it, stole the show."

Says Soviets Strong However, Max Truex getting a second place in the 5,000 meters was another outstanding performance," Elliott continued. "I think the Soviets fielded a strong squad and there's no question they are getting stronger in such events as the 400 and 800 meters and in the sprints and hurdles, too."

Budd, who won the 100-meter dash in 10.3 and sparked the U.S. men's 400-meter relay team to a world record of 39.1 seconds on Saturday, bounced back to win the 200-meter run in 20.8 Sunday and get the Yanks rolling toward a 124-111 victory over the Russian men's team.

Boston, the world record holder in the broad jump, extended his mark even further Sunday when he leaped 27 feet, 2 inches to add more points to the growing U.S. total.

Equals Own World Record Miss Rudolph, the Olympic triple gold medal winner, equalled her own world record of 11.3 seconds in winning the women's 100-meter dash and then brought the 400-meter relay team from behind to win that event, too, Saturday. However, the American girls bowed to the Russian amazons, 68-38.

Although the men's and women's meets are scored separately, Soviet newspapers were expected to combine the scores and claim victory for Russia. Under that system, used on two previous occasions when the Soviet men bowed to the Yanks but Soviet women athletes won, Russia outscored America, 179-163.

Altogether, six world records were set in the two-day meet, three of them coming on the final day.

Valery Brumel, the high jumping champion, took John Thomas' measure for a fifth straight time with a world record-breaking leap of 7 feet, 4 inches, and Tatyana Schelkanova set a women's broad jump record with a leap of 21 feet, 3 1/4 inches.

The American men won 7 of 11 events on Saturday and 6 of 11 on Sunday, while the U.S. girls took 2 of 5 Saturday events and then were shut out in Sunday's 5 events, in 4 of which the Russians made a 1-2 sweep.

Top Horses Set For Hollypark Week

HOLLYWOOD PARK — Charity week at Hollywood Park will be climaxed Saturday by America's first 100-grander of the year for two-year-olds, the $100,000 added Hollywood Juvenile Championship at six furlongs.

Topping the field for the big race will be the winners of three recent two-year-old stakes at the Ingleside track. They are Mr. and Mrs. L. I. Nelson's Snappy King, winner of the Westchester Stakes, and Maine Chance Farm's Gun Glory, victorious last Thursday in the Charles S. Howard Stakes.

America's biggest charity racing week of the year is now being conducted at Hollywood Park, which will wind up its record 55-day season next Monday with the $75,000 Sunset Handicap at a mile and five furlongs for the older handicap stars as the feature.

During the current week, which Hollywood Park annually devotes to charity, all proceeds will go to welfare organizations of Southern California, including the Community Chests of 41 cities in Los Angeles County and the Community Chests of Orange and Ventura counties.

Since Hollywood Park staged its first meeting in 1938, $11,421,348 has been raised by charity racing and direct Hollywood Turf Club gifts of $2,724,818, and distributed to several hundred welfare agencies of Los Angeles, Inglewood and vicinity.

This huge sum has been raised by the public and the Hollywood Turf Club for Community Chests,

Red Cross, veterans rehabilitation, hospitals, organizations engaged in medical research and fighting juvenile delinquency, orphanages and many other similar welfare projects.

RUN FOR charity at Hollywood Park this week will feature top horses, top jockeys. Horses like Guadacanal, above, with trainer Bobby Dotter, are too old for the two-year-old event, but similar rising steeds will compete.

Roseboro Homer Topples Pirates

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Manager Walter Alston felt a little more kindly about his Los Angeles Dodgers today as a result of their uphill, extra-inning victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Sunday.

"Everybody did a good job," Alston commented after the 12-11 win. "I feel a lot better about the club than I did the day before."

Palmer In British Open Golf Victory

BIRKDALE, Eng. (UPI) — Arnold Palmer, the new British Open golf champion, figures he now ranks up there with Walter Hagen, Sammy Snead and Ben Hogan.

"I felt when I came over here," said Palmer, "that golfers must win the British Open to be in the same rank with Hagen, Snead and Hogan."

His next objective is the PGA championship at the Olympia Fields Country Club, outside of Chicago, later this month. It is the only major golf title the 31-year-old Palmer has not won in his brilliant professional career.

There had been two that had eluded him up to Saturday — the other being the British Open.

Wins By Stroke But he won that one when he shot the final 36 holes in three under par, and even par 72 gave him a total of 284—even par for the 72 holes—and a one stroke margin over Dai Rees of Wales, who finished with rounds of 71-72 for a total of 285.

Actually Palmer won it on the front nine of the third round, playing in a steady drizzle and strong winds. He shot a four under par 32 while Rees, who led by one stroke going into the day's play, started with a double-bogey seven on the first hole and carded a 36.

Playing in the sunshine in the afternoon, Palmer just matched the card to win out.

"Unless something unforeseen happens, I'll be back next year to defend the title," the happy Palmer said.

Christie O'Connor of Ireland and Neil Coles of Wales tied for third with 288's while defending champion Kel Nagle of Australia, who beat Palmer out by a stroke last year, and Eric Brown of Scotland, were next in line at 289.

The Dodgers used 19 men while the Pirates used 18 and the fifth Los Angeles pitcher, Johnny Podres, got credit for the victory, his 10th of the season, for pitching one inning. The fifth Pirate hurler, Elroy Face, was charged with the loss.

Catcher Johnny Roseboro was the hero of the game, driving in the winning run with a triple in the bottom of the 10th after Tommy Davis had singled.

Roseboro also helped bring the Dodgers up to a tie in the ninth with his 15th homer of the season.

Colavito, Cash Pace Tigers To AL Lead; MM Poles 32nd

DETROIT (UPI) — It's easy to say hold that tiger but what do you do when there's a pair of 'em like Rocky Colavito and Norm Cash on the loose?

Nobody could hold either Sunday, much less both, and that in a nutshell is the reason why the Detroit Tigers are back on top in the American League today.

Between them, Colavito and Cash ripped Kansas City's pitching for 16 total bases and 12 runs batted in during a doubleheader. Detroit swept the two games, 11-1 and 8-3, thus taking over first place by one percentage point from the New York Yankees, who beat the Baltimore Orioles, 2-1.

Regan Wins Ninth

Colavito drove in five runs in the nightcap with his 23rd and 24th homers, while Cash, who contributed a three-run double in the opener, belted his 25th home run with one on in the nightcap. Rookie Dick McAuliffe also homered in the second game to help Phil Regan to his ninth victory.

Southpaw Don Mossi limited the A's to five hits in the opener and contributed a home run to his own cause. Al Kaline hit his 11th homer off loser Jim Archer.

In other AL games, the Cleveland Indians took the opener from the Minnesota Twins, 7-5, but dropped the nightcap, 12-5; the Los Angeles Angels beat the Washington Senators, 11-2, then lost the second game, 4-3, in 10 innings, and Boston split with Chicago, the White Sox winning the opener, 4-3, and the Red Sox taking the 12-inning nightcap, 5-3.

Red Lead Out

Cincinnati's lead in the National League was sliced to five games when the Chicago Cubs defeated the Reds, 4-2, and the Los Angeles Dodgers outlasted the Pittsburgh Pirates, 12-11. The San Francisco Giants downed the Philadelphia Phillies, 7-3, and the Milwaukee Braves trounced the St. Louis Cardinals, 9-1.

Mickey Mantle drove in both of the Yankees' runs against the Orioles with his 32nd homer and a

Bucs, Legion Win

The Pirates beat the Elks 14-3 and the Legionaires took the Dodgers 8-1 in Palm Springs Pony League action at the Polo Grounds Friday evening.

Tom Bradley and Paul Paine turned in no-hit games for the two winners.

RECALL NEGRO PITCHER

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Southpaw Alphonse (Al) Downing, the first start for them against the history, will join the New York Yankees today and make his first start for them against the Washington Senators Wednesday.

Downing, 20, was called up from Binghamton of the Eastern League where he had a 9-1 record.

Dark Glows After Giants' 7-3 Win

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A man named Sam is burning the airplanes again from the pitchers box to home plate and a warm glow has spread through the San Francisco Giants clubhouse.

"It was wonderful to see him come back and pitch so well," manager Alvin Dark of the Giants said Sunday after Sam Jones had pitched them to a 7-3 conquest of the Philadelphia Phillies and back into third place. "He has the type of arm that apparently needs a lot of work and I intend to keep him working. I might start him Thursday at St. Louis."

Jones, appearing as a starter for the first time since June 13, struck out nine Phillies with his revived fast ball and held them to four singles until fading in the eighth. At that point he loaded the bases with none out by hitting two batters and walking another.

Miller to Rescue

This was Stu Miller's cue to take over and the wiry magician assured Jones of his seventh win against five losses.

Billy O'Dell (4-3) is slated to open for the Giants today when they close out their home stand against Dallas Green (2-3) of the Phils.

San Francisco battered Pittsburgh, 8-3, Saturday as Mike McCormick went the distance. Sunday's performance gave the Giants four wins in their last five games and a record of 4-6 during their stand at Candlestick Park.

Willie Mays grabbed the lead in the National League home run race by clubbing his 25th and 26th yesterday while Matty Alou unloaded a three-run homer to break the game open in the fifth inning.

Pitcher's Son Hurt

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Philadelphia Phillies outfielder B.G. Smith's son, Michael, had his right thumb amputated at Delaware County Hospital Sunday after he mangled it in a lawn mower at his suburban home.

Police said the 6-year-old boy had just finished mowing the lawn at the Smith's Manoa home when the accident occurred.
